I'm sure you would think you were in a trery strange place.

Plows were then made of wood, and were pulled back and forth by oxen and donkeys. The donkey picture shown today was sketched on the tomb of one of the powerful mea of old Egypt. This man was shown watching thers at work on his farm,

For one thing, he is gazing at a donkey which is carrying a load of grain on its back. There is no bridle on this donkey. To guide it, the man it its side catches it by the neck or slaps it or pulls its ears.

The little donkey shows a different form scene. A man is milking a cow. The cow has very long horns. No doubt she can give a mighty heavy kick. The milker has tied her hind legs to make himself as safe as possible.

The milk seems to be coming out n very thick streams. I suppose the artist drew E that way so everyour would know the man was milking. The milk is dropping into a clay jar. (b)

Minding no answer, the belated unfortunates back their heads grimly and determined they reald have to make up for lost time.

The stores were crowded throughout the day. Most of them remain open until late and will continue this practice until Christmas Day. A profusion of pine, cedar and fir trees has been shipped into this city. Wreaths, holly, mistletoe and laurel are also being sold in large quantities.

Automobiles are peing decorated by their owners, some of the limousines having wreathes displayed at the front and rear windows. Practically all of the stores and offices have trees and wreaths on display.

The stores report a spurt of trade during yesterday and today, and expect that during the next few days the rush will reach greater proportions.

give needed things to the poor of the city on Christmas day. Toys will also be given to the children and an effort will be made to make their Christmas as happy as possible. The Y. M. B. Port Arthur has become a city of coffee addiets.

This is the startling disciosure of grocers and restauranteurs. The former say everybody is buying the nareotic bean and the latter say everybody is drinking the black clixir that is brewed from it.

Since Volstead decided on an eleventh commandment restaurant keepers here say the consumption of coffee has increased 40 per cent and is still climbing.

The man who drank from three to four enps of coffee per meal at home is now carrying his home habits into the restaurants and hotel dining rooms, the waiters say.

The pathologist and symtomatologist in their unlagging search for the reason and cause have concluded that the coffee cravers are divided into three classes.

First are those who always have drank it, new do and always will out of force of habit and a natural liking for the bean.

Second, that vast multitude that always tastes forbidden fruits. The horrors of the coffee habit as depicted by the cereal manufacturers make coffee so alluring and reckless to those in this category.

Third, those who miss their morning nip which the eighteenth amendment took away from them. The beer being flat they take a cup of "black" with their morning sinker.

Actor Faces Tough Assyrian in Scrap Tonight Army Captain Invading Giant Is

Rated Best in 185 Pound Mat Class

Both Scrappers Trained for Hard Mill; Curtain Raiser At 8 o'Clock Opens Another Sensational Card at Elks Theater

** conclution of San Marca, WIIII both principals in the pink of trim, and with local fandom anticipating a wirlwind battle, the stage was set this morning for a sensational bout in Elks Theater tonight when George Actor, local wrestling artist, faces Omar Ojile, the Assyrian champion from New York City, in a finisa, no-time-limit

Actor, trained to his best condition for a match with Stanley Rogers, called off at the last minute when Rogers telegraphed Promoter Will Fort that he would be unable to reach Port Arthur before the 29th of this month, is prepared to face the Assyrian grappler and "give him my best."

The Assyrian grappler, who is under the direction of Gus Blumfield, New York eportsman, was obtained to fill up the bill here tonight through the persistent negotiations of Promoter Fort, who was anxious not to disappoint the fans who had planned on witnessing a finish bill tonight. Offile is perhaps the most scrappy Assyrian who has ever come south. For the past month he has been in training in Houston, Texas, for a series of engagements in the east beginning the first of January, and had not originally intended entering any matches in this section of the country.

"He is an up-town boy," his manager speaks of him, "and a big eard anywhere he is put on.'

So those who anticipate attending the match tonight will not pext year's West Point eleven, is a be disappointed. They will find in Ojile, according to his short veteran gridder. record in the states, a clean bill of health, and one that bespeaks sensations. Actor will have his hands full if not more full than had Rogers been able to reach here per schedule.

The ringside seats are completed and erected completely around the ring on the spacious stage for tonight's bill. They will probably seat some 300 fans, but those who wish them must call early tonight or be forced to sit elsewhere in the theater.

The bill includes several snappy prelims with local boys on the eard, and the windup with Actor and the Assyrian. The American Engineers Urge Minnesota, the last of the season, curtain rings up at 8 o'clock promptly.

Action, science, strength, will be the feature part of the main attraction tonight, and if George Actor topples Offile, he will be batting in the 1,000 per cent for sure, Ojile will arrive here this afternoon.
